Travel guide to the Institute of Technical Biochemistry (ITB):

- How to get to the ITB by train:

You will arrive at Stuttgart Central station. Follow the green "S-Bahn" signs (the S-Bahn station is one level below the train station) and take one of the trains "S1", "S2" or "S3" (direction "Vaihingen", "Herrenberg", "Böblingen", or "Flughafen") until you reach the station "Universität" (4th stop). Leave the station by the stairs near the rear of the train.

Don't forget to buy a "S-Bahn" ticket. There are ticket machines at every station. You have to press "002" for 2 zones. If you travel in a group, you can buy a group ticket (called "Tageskarte") which is valid for 5 persons.

See page 2 for the footpath from the S-Bahn station to the institute.

- How to get to the ITB by car:

Highway: Take the "Autobahn" A8 or A81, leave at "Autobahnkreuz Stuttgart", direction "Stuttgart Zentrum" via the A831, and after the short tunnel take the exit "Universität".

From Stuttgart downtown: Take the B14 direction "Böblingen", then via "Schattenring", take the exit "Universität". A map of the university campus is on page 4.

There are parkings directly in front of the Center of Bioprocess Engineering.

- How to get to the ITB from the airport:

At the airport follow the green "S-Bahn" signs (the "S-bahn" station is below the airport buildings). Take one of the trains "S2" or "S3" (directions "Schorndorf" or "Backnang"). Leave the train at station "Universität". Leave the station by the stairs near the front of the train.

- Footpath from the S-Bahn station to the Institute of Technical Biochemistry:

Now that you have arrived at the university station (1) you head left until you see the library.

Walk along the library building and keep left. Walk through the underpass until you see a bridge over a street.

Walk over that bridge (there is a small lake at your right). Now you have reached (2) in the small map. Directly after the bridge, turn left, cross another bridge, and keep straight on for about 200 meters.

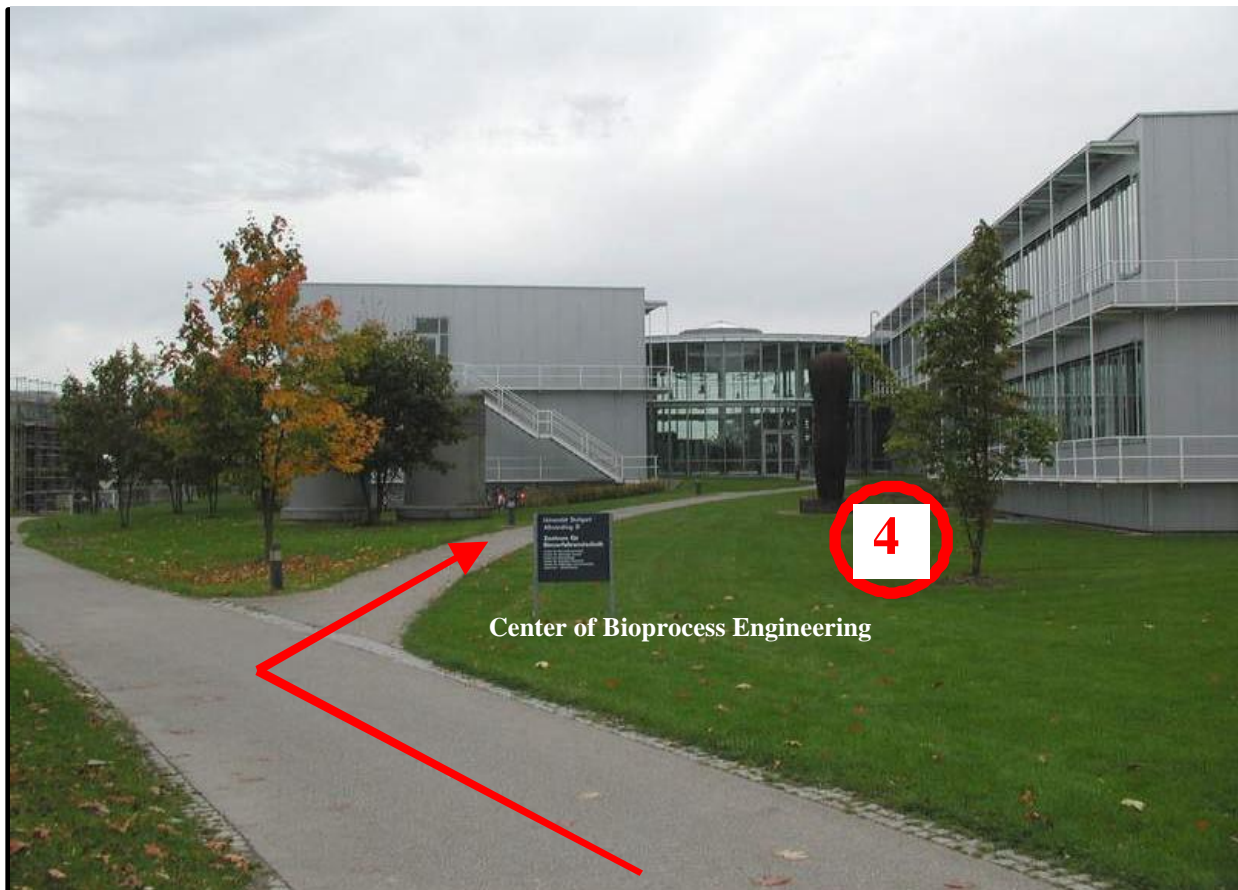

At the crossing (3), turn right and follow this way for another 300 meters.

Now you can see the Center of Bioprocess Engineering (4). Inside the building are signposts to our institute.
